

Kent Communications

Brief:

A company, which has grown through marketing and acquisition, needed to consolidate their facilities and provide a state-of-the-art appearance for a $50 a square foot budget. All this and have a completed project in 9 months, including land acquisition.

Strategy:

Using a pre-engineered structure for the main facility and conventional construction at the front of the building reflecting the radius of the street, the project was kept under budget. Exposed painted structure was used throughout the building and corrugated galvanized steel in the office area.
